About Kuvempu University:

Kuvempu University, named after the great writer poet Kuvempu, is located at the foothills of Sahyadri mountain range and in the lap of the pristine Bhadra Tiger Reserve.

Established in the year 1987, the university has built a reputation for its distinctive academic profile, which has a fine balance of rural ethos and modern spirit. Spread across 330 acres of land, the university has built Jnanasahyadri-campus, one of the most beautiful campuses in the state, without disturbing the wildlife of the region.

Located in Shankaraghatta, Jnana Sahyadri is the main campus and also the administrative headquarters. 33 Post Graduate Departments offer courses here. Apart from this, the university also runs Post graduate centres at Kadur and Chikmagalur catering to the needs of the students belonging to that region.

Dr. Babu Jagjivan Ram Studies and Research Centre:

Established in the year 2017 under The Karnataka State Universities Act, 2000, Dr. Babu Jagjivan Ram Studies and Research Centre of Kuvempu University has a larger aim of attempting to construct the Indian society as per the vision of Dr. Babu Jagjivan Ram. Theme: Marginalized groups and social justice

Marginalized groups are those sections of the society which have remained ignored and isolated in the past due to various social and economic causes. The major groups among these include the scheduled castes, the scheduled tribes, the other backward classes, and the minorities. To this one may add religious, linguistic minorities, LGBT communities, which are suppressed in the society in one or the other way.

One of the major causes of social inequality and the major impediment to social justice in the country is caste system and untouchability is an offshoot of this evil practice. Discrimination on the basis of caste is inhuman and is unparalleled elsewhere in the world, except perhaps the practice of racism in the West.

This conference aims to focus on the concept of social justice in relation to marginalized groups of the Indian society. SCs/ STs, OBCs, women and the minorities are subjected to various forms of discrimination, and humiliation from the upper castes in the country.

Over the years the forms of discriminations have taken different colors. In some places it is open and brazen, while in some other it is more subtle. As well known Kannada writer Devanooru Mahadeva rightly puts it, the constitutional compulsion may have brought people of various castes together in public places, but their hearts are still filled with darkness.

This conference aims to relook into this rooted practice of discrimination meted out to marginalized groups. The conference aims to find answers to questions such as; What are the academic responses to these pertinent issues? Whether social sciences have been able to find solutions to these perennial problems facing the Indian society? and the big question; whether social justice is still elusive for marginalized groups of the country?

Sub-themes

- ï New forms of marginalization
- ï Dalit movements and social justice
- ï Education and empowerment
- ï Entrepreneurship among Dalit and Adivasi communities
- ï Status of Nomadic and Semi-nomadic communities
- ï Status of women belonging to SC/ST, OBC and Minorities
- ï Reservation and political empowerment
- ï Marginalized groups and media
- ï Status of LGBT communities

Call for papers

We invite research papers from the academicians, practitioners, research scholars and students to present in the conference. Those who wish to present papers on the above theme or sub-themes may send abstracts not exceeding 150 words to kuvempubjsrc@gmail.com on or before 28th March 2022. Research papers in English and Kannada language are invited for presentation. Select papers will be published in the upcoming issue of 'The Social Science Dialogue' E-journal (ISSN 2583-0708), published by Prasaraanga, Kuvempu University. The papers selected by the screening committee will be accepted for presentation in the Conference. The full text of the paper and power point presentation should be sent to kuvempubjsrc@gmail.com on or before 2nd April, 2022.

The Guidelines for submission of full papers are:

- ï The length of full paper including tables, diagrams, illustrations, references, etc, should be between 5000 to 6000 words.
- ï The full paper should be in English, in MS Word in Times New Roman with font size 12. Kannada paper should be in nudi 01e. other guidelines remain the same.
- ï References should be arranged alphabetically and given at the end of the paper in the APA format
- ï The full version of paper should be submitted in both hard and soft copies latest by April 2nd, 2022.

Institution rests on strong academic foundation, blended with a contemporary approach that sculptured young students into successful role models. This has been the legacy, for the past eight decades since its establishment in 1941.

JSS ACADEMY OF HIGHER EDUCATION & RESEARCH, MYSURU

JSS Academy of Higher Education & Research (AHER), formerly known as JSS University, was established in the year 2008 with four constituent colleges - JSS Medical College and Hospital, JSS Dental College and Hospital, JSS College of Pharmacy, Mysuru, and JSS College of Pharmacy, Ooty. In addition, JSS AHER has taken initiatives to enhance community health education and outreach activities by establishing departments of Water and Health (2011) and Health System Management Studies (2012). To expand our horizons in the field of Basic Health Science, the Faculty of Life Sciences with many basic and applied science departments was also initiated in the year (2013). JSS Mahavidyapeetha has been a guiding force providing support and encouragement to the JSS AHER and its initiatives.

JSS AHER has embarked on the international path through strategic initiatives and collaborations. These globalization efforts over the years have provided the students of JSS AHER and the healthcare professionals with an 1800-beds super-specialty tertiary care hospital, Mysuru. The hospital caters to a population of 3 – million people from all over Karnataka and India. This rich clinical environment along with dedicated faculty and physicians enables students and trainees to enhance their experience and professional development.

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY (DST-STUTI), GOI

The Department of Science and Technology (DST) is a department within the Ministry of Science and Technology in India. It was established in May 1971 to promote new areas of science and technology and to play the role of a nodal department for organizing, coordinating, and promoting Scientific and Technological activities in the country. It gives funds to various approved scientific projects in India. It also supports various researchers in India to attend conferences abroad and go for experimental works. The Scheme 'Synergistic Training program Utilizing the Scientific and Technological Infrastructure' (STUTI) is intended to build human resources and its knowledge capacity through open access to S&T Infrastructure across the country. As a complement to the various schemes of DST funding for expansion of R&D Infrastructure at academic institutions, the STUTI scheme envisions a hands-on training program and sensitization of the state-of-the-art equipment as well as towards sharing while ensuring transparent access to S&T facilities.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

This workshop focus on hands-on training on phytochemical (a) extraction methods; (b) purification from the extracts based on their charge, hydrophobicity and size; and (c) characterization of purified molecules using UV-Visible spectrophotometric, Thin Layer Chromatography (TLC) and High-Performance Liquid Chromatographic (HPLC) procedures.

In addition, the workshop provides training in (a) mammalian cell culture methods (freezing-, thawing-, and propagation of cell lines, cell viability determination by MTT etc); (b) extraction of total RNA, quality assessment, cDNA synthesis and quantitative realtime-polymerase chain reaction (qRT-PCR); and (c) isolation and quantification of proteins from cultured cells, followed by detection of a specific protein by SDS-PAGE and western blotting. Furthermore, senior professors and industry leaders will deliver expert talks covering the frontier areas of drug discovery from natural sources. Sessions pertaining to preclinical evaluation of phytomolecules will also be covered during this workshop.

In summary, this DST-STUTI sponsored 7-days workshop is a well-designed package to train the participants in the areas of phytomedicines isolation, purification and characterization as well as in the basic concepts of cell culture, drug screening and molecular methods of analyzing the mode of action of drugs.

KEY OBJECTIVES

- Provide knowledge and experimental skills to the researchers working in the areas of phytopharmacy and pharmacology
- Introduce the methods of cell culture, drug screening protocols, familiarize the participants to tools such as RT-PCR and western blotting, which are widely used in determining the mechanism of action of drugs
- Extend the net-working opportunities to the participants by introducing leaders in the areas of phytomedicine research

WHO CAN ATTEND

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The National Conference on "Empowering the Invisible Workforce: Addressing the Issues and Challenges of Unorganized Sector Labourers" holds great significance as we commemorate the 115th Birth Anniversary of Dr. Babu Jagajivan Ram, a renowned social reformer and advocate for marginalized communities. This conference aims to empower the unorganized sector workforce and overcome the obstacles they face, aligning with Dr. Babu Jagajivan Ram's vision of social justice and inclusivity.

In India, the unorganized sector constitutes a substantial portion of the workforce, with around highest number of workforce engaged in informal and unorganized employment. This sector spans various industries such as agriculture, construction, manufacturing, domestic work, and street vending. These workers confront numerous challenges including low wages, job insecurity, lack of social protection, and poor working conditions. In Karnataka, a prominent state in India, the unorganized sector plays a significant role in the economy, employing approximately 70% of the workforce and contributing to its growth. However, workers in this sector still struggle with informal employment, low wages, lack of social security, and limited access to basic amenities.

The National Conference on "Empowering the Invisible Workforce" serves as a platform to address these pressing challenges faced by unorganized sector laborers in India, particularly in Karnataka. The conference brings together policymakers, experts, researchers, practitioners, and activists to foster discussions on policy interventions and reforms aimed at improving the rights, welfare, and empowerment of unorganized sector laborers. The conference advocates for the implementation of comprehensive policies that address the specific needs and challenges of these workers. It facilitates the exchange of experiences, insights, and best practices among researchers, practitioners, and activists, enabling the identification of effective strategies to enhance the working conditions, livelihoods, and social inclusion of unorganized sector laborers.

Moreover, the conference emphasizes the importance of empowering these laborers through skill development and capacity building initiatives. It highlights the need for training programs and resources that enhance their employability and create sustainable livelihood opportunities. The conference also provides a platform for stakeholders to collaborate, network, and forge partnerships, encouraging synergies among policymakers, researchers, civil society organizations, and trade unions.

By addressing the issues faced by unorganized sector laborers, the conference aims to raise awareness, drive policy changes, and promote initiatives that improve their overall well-being and social standing. It plays a significant role in shaping the discourse on empowering the invisible workforce and ensuring their inclusion in the socio-economic fabric of India and Karnataka. Ultimately, the conference pays tribute to Dr. Babu Jagajivan Ram's visionary leadership and seeks to continue his legacy by working towards a more equitable society that uplifts and empowers all sections of the population.

Invitation

It is with great pleasure that we invite all the Sociology fraternity members to participate in the 14th National Sociology Conference (NSC) of the Karnataka Sociology Association being hosted by the Department of P.G. Studies and Research in Sociology Kuvempu University, Shankaraghatta on the theme "Reconstructing Society in Post COVID 19 India: Challenges and Opportunities for Sociology" between November 9 and 10, 2022. The Conference invites research papers in English and Kannada to be presented through 15 Research Committees (RCs). The Papers to be presented in the Research Committees are to be prepared in consonance with the main and sub-themes of the conference.

About the University

Kuvempu University an affiliating University established in 1987. It is a State University recognized by UGC under 2(f) and 12(b). The University has been named after great Kannada writer Shri KUVEMPU and has achieved a distinctive academic profile and a cultural identity of its own. Interestingly, the features of its identity seem to have emerged out of the multifaceted personality of Kuvempu, the great doyen of Kannada literature, a Jnanapitha awardee and one among the most significant cultural figures of modern India.

Kuvempu University is a confluence of the local and the global; of the regional and the pan-Indian; of the sustenance provided by tradition and the dynamism provided by modernity; of a deep sense of commitment to the socially and culturally disadvantaged and an equally deep commitment to excellence. The emblem of the university has a mythical animal with the trunk of an elephant and the body of a swan. This mythical animal, called Gajahamsa is commonly found in the Vijayanagara and the Keladi sculpture and temple art. It symbolizes the integration of knowledge and wealth. The jurisdiction of the university spreads over the districts of Shivamogga and Chikkamagaluru. It is a university with a distinctive academic profile, blending in itself commitment to rural ethos in modern spirit. The university offers under-graduate, post-graduate and Ph.D programmes in a wide range of disciplines. It has 35 Post-graduate Departments in the Faculties of Arts, Commerce, Education, and Science and Technology. The University has its headquarters at Jnana Sahyadri campus. It sprawls over an area of 230 acres of a lush green, picturesque locale providing the right ambience for higher education. The main buildings of the university have been constructed on small hillocks, thus blending naturally with the landscape. The entire campus area is free from any form of pollution. The undisturbed and pleasant atmosphere on the campus makes it ideally suited for the pursuit of higher education and research.

Post-Graduate Centre, Kadur

With the objective of providing higher education to rural youth, Kuvempu University established a Post-graduate Centre at Basavanagara, Kadur. It is spread over 65 acres near Shivamogga-Bengaluru highway and 7 kms away from Kadur town. Four courses are offered here; M.Com, MA Economics, M.Sc. Chemistry and M.Sc. Pharmaceutical Chemistry. It has separate hostels for boys and girls.

Post-Graduate Centre, Chikkamagaluru

To further promote the motto, "Quality Education for All" and to encourage rural students in seeking admission to Postgraduate programmes, University has started one more centre at Chikkamagaluru. Four courses are offered here: M.Com, MA Kannada, Political Science and M.Sc. Mathematics.

Department of Sociology

The Post Graduate Department of Sociology, Kuvempu University, has completed 34 years since its inception in 1988 to reflect on our march towards, research and teaching in Sociology for a better understanding of social processes in our small way. The attempts of the Department, over these proving years, have mainly concentrated on the application of sociological principles to our immediate surroundings through conceptual and theoretical debates-both within the classrooms and outside. With M.A. M.Phil, and Ph.D. Programmes, teaching has been the first priority, although research has received due attention. The faculty has entered into dialogue, regularly and continuously, with the outside academicians, participated in seminars, workshops, conference and the like, Research backed by valid and reliable information base, has centered close to local and regional issues, the attempt was to combine the macro and the molecular. Inter department and multi-disciplinary work was valued.

CONFERENCE THEMES

The proposed two-day National Sociology Conference on “Reconstructing Society in Post COVID-19 India: Challenges and Opportunities for Sociology” will bring to fore the devastating imprints that the COVID-19 pandemic has left behind, and the ways by which we as members of the sociology fraternity could work for rebuilding the lives and livelihoods of millions of people, who are left on society’s margins. COVID-19 is not to be seen only as a health issue, but needs to be understood and analysed from a multi-disciplinary perspective and in the inter-sectionality framework.

COVID-19 created ruptures in the social fabric, and deeply changed the ways in which people live and work. While some of the damage done by the pandemic are of a temporary nature, and could be set right, there are those that have left an indelible mark on human well-being and would require a multi-pronged intervention involving the state, civil society, corporate enterprises and people from across different social groups. This is an area where sociological insights would be of immense value’.

Sociology has a crucial role to play in understanding the nature and intensity of the impact that COVID-19 has/had on different sections of the Indian society. These include, among others, the coping mechanisms which different groups adopted; the differential impact of the pandemic in the context of caste, class, gender and location; the distressful situations in which the elderly, disabled and LGBTQ+ were placed, and the trail of misery that the pandemic left in the lives of migrant groups. It is also very important to engage in a sociological discourse on the concept and practice of ‘social distancing’, which was projected as the ‘escape route’ from COVID. The pandemic also introduced a new language, which introduced concepts such as ‘new normal’, ‘shadow pandemic’ ‘community spread’, ‘quarantine’, ‘work from home’, ‘super spreader’ ‘lockdown’ ‘isolation’- all of which have socio-cultural-economic ramifications . Sociology has another task to perform, that being the facilitation of micro studies on societal responses to COVID-19. These are the issues which the conference proposes to deliberate on.

The conference theme assumes critical significance in these times when the state has been launching many policy interventions for reconstructing the multiple damages done by the COVID-19 pandemic. Though the inputs given by sociological studies would enrich policy efforts by bringing them closer to lived-in-experiences of people, sociology often does not get the place it merits in the policy domain. This is a challenge which the discipline must address and must gear itself up for drawing a roadmap for creating a sustainable post COVID-19 India.

The crisis created by the pandemic has led to the emergence of many ‘new jobs’, which have opened up career opportunities for practitioners of sociology. Since the entire rejuvenation effort has to be carried out with a people-centric approach, an understanding of the life situations in which human beings are placed is required. Since sociology can bestow this capacity, it is now an appropriate time to discuss the opportunities that the discipline can offer for those who pursue sociology as a course of study.

The KSA’s flagship 14th National Sociology Conference will discuss the conference theme in the following.

Two plenary sessions: 1. State, Society and Public Health in Karnataka, 2. Health, Economy and Society in Malnaad Karnataka.

Two Memorial Lectures: 1. Hiremallur Iswaran, Memorial Lecture–sponsored by Hiremallur Iswaran Institute. Jagadguru Tontadarya Vidyapeetha’s Dharwad.

2. Nadoja Prof. C. Parvathamma, Memorial Lecture- sponsored by Syagali Shivarudramma Trust, Mysuru and technical sessions covering the broad themes.

The conference theme needs to be kept in mind while preparing and presenting the papers in the Research Committees. Some of the major sub-themes on which the papers could be prepared are:

- Impact of COVID-19 on Family, Education and Work life
- COVID-19 and the Marginalization of Special Groups- Sexual Minorities, Elderly, Disabled
- COVID-19 and Migration: Urban and Rural Crisis
- Understanding COVID-19 from a Caste-Class-Gender Perspective
- Society’s Responses to COVID-19: The State, NGOs, Health Care System, Industry and People
- The State Policy and Reconstructing the Post-COVID-19 Society

About the conference

In recent years the interest has grown in the field of Smart and Radiation induced modification of materials. The present age is considered as "Smart materials era". The smart materials have revolutionized the recent field of material science and they are used in various fields. The irradiated materials enormously change their physical and chemical properties. Radiation is a very convenient tool for modification of materials and they are used in many fields. This conference focuses on recent advances in radiation induced surface modification, membranes, polymer degradation, magnetic materials, textiles, metals and insulators. In order to disseminate the knowledge generated in this fast growing field there is a need to bring the material science and radiation community on a common platform and discuss changes in their properties and use in various fields. This conference will feature invited talks, contributed papers oral and poster presentation by eminent scientists, academicians and researchers. This conference will provide a chance to academics and industry professionals as well to discuss the recent progress in this area and related applications in diverse fields of science and technology. The researchers and academicians will interact and exchange their thoughts, ideas on respective streams and to meet the changes, expectations, demands and new challenges in this field. Semiotic Modalities Between Indian Popular Music and Hindustani Classical Genres: A Musical Peroration

Prof. Vaishali K S

A Light Musical Concert by
Dr. Kavitha K
Alumni of the Department of English, Kuvempu University

Concept: English in India has come a long way from being merely a colonial agenda of Western education that it had been in the 1930's when it finally became state educational policy in the subcontinent. Since then and until some 30 years ago when influence of the postcolonial moment had diffused the Indian academia almost completely, it was the discipline of English Studies that was most impacted. We thought that we could carry English language with a minimal of the 'English' in the English literatures and suitably replaced the English Literature curriculum. Now we are at yet another crossroad, of greater consequence and change: even while English continues to dominate the consciousness of the Indian public in matters of educational and occupational mediums vis- a- vis internationalization of the public sectors.

This third rupture comes by the far wider changes taking place in the larger socio-cultural arenas beyond the institutional disciplinary practices. Mainly the growth of non-literary media such as Films, Television and Social media and the changes they have brought about in cultural consumption patterns, these factors are increasingly leading to the decentering of Language and Literary (culture) studies and demanding to replace them with new disciplinary practices such as Cultural Studies, Media and Film Studies. This is happening to not just the English Departments but also to other Language Studies such as Kannada, Hindi, Sanskrit, Urdu etc. Cultural Studies today for instance has critically displaced the earlier literary approaches to literary research and is making it a professional practice in which the conventional literature student is turned into a novice and a mere dabbler. In tandem and allied to these is the rise of sectarian studies such as women, subaltern, queer, disability, etc., Studies, disciplinary developments which sometimes deliberately disengage and distinguish themselves from English Literary Studies.

Questions arise is the Literary Studies discipline extingting, or is it merely that English Studies is diversifying? Because these changes are demanding enlarging of institutional pedagogical practices, and promotion of new curriculum & research practices that may diversify English Studies further. What are these divergences & what the consequences? This conference is an attempt to chart the new challenges and possibilities.

Themes:

- Which English Literature?
- Is regional approach to English literature syllabus feasible?
- Sectarian Studies (such as Dalit, Queer, Women) and English Syllabus.
- Problems of Genre approach to English Syllabus designing.
- Why Translation Studies has not progressed in the English departments.
- Local languages and English literature.
- Mapping the impact of Cultural Studies on Literary Studies.
- Can we integrate Film Studies with literary Studies?
- Doing research in English Studies today.
